

Handwritten text in a Gothic script, likely a page from a manuscript. The text is written in black ink on a white background. The script is characterized by its sharp, angular forms and dense, compact lettering. The text is arranged in a single column, running vertically down the page. The words are difficult to decipher due to the cursive and highly stylized nature of the script, but they appear to be a continuous block of text. The overall appearance is that of a historical document or a page from an old book.